Merger may be near, Mushill says

Friends, family and well-wishers lined Madison Avenue Monday as several area unions showed their pride.

The Great, Madison County, Federation of Tri-City Chapter of the AFL-CIO sponsored the 15th Annual Labor Day Parade and Picnic held in Wilson Park.

trophies, car shows and plenty of fellowship on Monday.

This year's parade celebrated the 10th anniversary of the merger of the Coal, Labor Councils of Alton, Wood River, Collinsville-Edwardsville and Tri-City Areas, a move that made those councils one statewide.

Another union merger could create a mighty organization through the possible merger of steelworkers, auto

Annual walk slated for Sept. 19 in Wilson Park

Break out your walking shoes next Saturday to help beat multiple sclerosis.

The annual MS Walk is set for 9 a.m. Sept. 19 in Wilson Park in Granite City and five other Illinois and Missouri communities. The MS Walk supports research and services for people with multiple sclerosis.

"We had 20 participants last year," said Todd Vassel of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

"The walk is set for 9 a.m. in Granite City. This year we're shooting for 50 to 75 walkers."

In 1997, the walk gathered $3,200 in Granite

More than $325,000 was raised in the greater St. Louis area for both the much larger spring walks and the newer fall walks combined, Vassel said.

Teachers fill meeting

Friday's discussions could avert strike

GRANITE CITY SCHOOLS

By Scott Kelly
Staff writer

With the possibility of a strike next week, teachers packed the Granite City School Board meeting Tuesday night.

Strike talk naturally dominated the meeting. The Granite City Federation of Teachers, Local 743 is scheduled to meet at 3:30 p.m. Friday to discuss stumbling blocks in contract negotiations.

The teachers' contracts expire Saturday. If unsatisfied with the results of Friday's meeting, the union could vote to strike on Sunday and be on the picket lines Monday morning.

"It could be settled Friday afternoon if they truly want to settle. We're all the same part," Tom Turner, president of Local 743, said earlier this week.

The main stumbling block is teacher pension plans. The union wants the district to pay for all pension contributions, including a mandated 1 percent increase from the state, but the district wants the teachers to pay that 1 percent.

In the spring, the state legislature approved a new retirement package that allows teachers — who would normally have to work 38 years to retire — to retire after 34 years with full benefits. Board members said the state passed some of the costs to the Board of Education and some onto the teachers who

Big Mac's feat gives season a memorable flavor

By Scott Kelly
Staff writer

Where were you when Big Mac hit No. 62?

The biggest news in the St. Louis area — even in the nation — has been St. Louis Cardinals slugger Mark McGwire chase of Roger Maris' home run record of 61, hit in 1961.

For now, life here revolves around historic shot

McGwire hit No. 62 Tuesday in the fourth inning off of Chicago Cubs pitcher Steve Trachsel.

A huge rally was held Wednesday afternoon in downtown St. Louis to celebrate McGwire's feat. Locally, talks in every office, gas station and restaurant centered on homers, records and McGwire.

In the office of Dr. J. Bauer — an orthodontist and huge Cardinals fan — employees, young patients and their parents talked of little else.

"In celebration of McGwire, we have banners outside, we're all wearing Cardinals shirts," said Holly

Pecher, scheduling coordinator. "All of the kids are having a lot of fun," she said of the patients, who had McGwire on the mind instead of getting braces.

"It's really exciting. We're hearing KMOX in the office so we can hear every McGwire update," she said.

"Dr. Bauer is a huge Cardinals fan."

Area group hogs donations for good cause

By Scott Kelly
Staff writer

Motorcyclists will be revving their engines to make a run for toys and food Sunday.

The Plaza-Gateway Chapter and the St. Clair County Chapter of ABATE of Illinois is holding its 12th annual Toy and Food Run Sunday, starting at the VFW Post 1299, 7108 Marine Road in Edwardsville.

A Brotherhood Aimed Toward Education is a non-profit, motorcycle recycling organization. The group is excited about the run, and they hope to do even better this year than the 1997 run.

They are additionally going toward women's centers in the Metro East. Riders collect donations of food, toys and cash along the way.

Last year, donations went to the Food Pantry of Breeze, the Phoenix Crisis Center in Granite City and the Salvation Army in East Alton. This year, proceeds will be donated to the Women's Crisis Center of Metro East in Belleville and the Oasis Women's Center in Alton.

For the former center requested donations that include money, canned drinks, snack food, craft projects, backpacks, perfume, hair brushes, house shoes and school supplies. For Oasis, requested donations are school supplies, disposable diapers, canned drinks, personal items, backpacks and undergarments and socks for women and children.

The first stop will be at Belleville Honda, 2100 N. Belt West in Belleville, and the second at Ted's Motorcycle World Inc. at 4103 Humbert in Alton.

Is public as shallow as the media thinks?

A day doesn't pass that I don't wonder: 'Exactly how superficial are we, the general public?' As shallow as the national media gauge us to be?" Too often, I admit to myself that, overall, yeah, they're right.

A creature of habit, my day is in balance if it doesn't begin with coffee, a crossword morning paper and even though last Tuesday's headline news was far from cheerful, it was almost a relief. Not a word of Clinton's amours or McGwire's latest humor.

For a change, serious stuff.

It was about the previous day's low plunge of 512 points, the House's parliament's refusal to approve Yeltsin's candidate for prime minister; North Korea's firing a ballistic missile over the main island of Japan, without warning.

Frankly, it wasn't what I anticipated. After all, the previous day had been the first anniversary of the death of Britain's Princess Diana and I'd expected all kinds of maudlin lead stories of memorials and mourning for 'the people's princess.' Now, if the Brits want to wallow in their collective grief, that's okay with me. She was their princess. She wasn't mine. Come down to it, she wasn't any of ours, thanks to our pressocracy's paltry more than two hundred years ago.

Of course, on Monday realms of newsworthy news were devoted to her untimely death, as well as to every possible fact of the British royal's life which editor could conceive. How were her two young sons bearing up? Has Charles, Prince of Wales, been changed by the past year? The queen? Queen Parker Bowles, Charles' mistress? NBC had devoted two hours Monday night to a special on the queen's two hours? I assume that the special was a rehashing of everything remotely connected to the accident, death, state funeral, whatever. I wouldn't know because I don't play cards. I do know, that a week hasn't passed since the death that in some publications there hasn't been some kind of story, special or not, and I'd make an educated guess that most of the audience must have been made up of lovers of soap opera.

As I write, the first anniversary of the death of Mother Teresa is coming up. She died on Monday. She is human, part of that. She recently partied a news conference during which she panned the fund raising, reminding the press of what Joan Rivers once said about people of faith: 'Osma! She makes Mother Teresa look like a slut.' Substitute Diana for Marie and see what the media hath wrought. And give some serious thought to getting a life of your own.

five days after Diana, if you'll excuse me, a tragedy. I shall be very surprised if more than a brief lip service in the media is given the occasion. There has not been continuing coverage of the princess since a year ago, although one recent Associated Press story, almost buried near the classified ads informed anyone interested enough to read it that after the order the Missionaries of Charity was thriving and that donations have been so great that since her death, 20 new convents have been founded and that the order anticipates that by the end of the year, there will be 64 such homes for the destitute and dying world-wide.

Further, new sources indicate that Nirmala, 64, a Hindu-born convert to Christianity who now heads the 4,000 nun membership, is apparently a tough, short-tempered, no-nonsense woman. She was their princess. She wasn't mine. Come down to it, she wasn't any of ours, thanks to our pressocracy's paltry more than two hundred years ago.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

GOP trashed Price's father

TO THE EDITOR:

I was the chairman of my friend Congressman Mel Price's last two campaigns for Congress.

When Mel Price ran for reelection in 1986, the National Republican Committee came to our office and spent thousands of dollars to run the nastiest, most negative campaign against him. What they did to the reputation of the Mel Price name and to our community made me sick with stomach pain.

So I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw the same crew come to town recently and stand at the airport with Mel's son, Bill Price. These guys know only one thing: negative, nasty campaigns — and now they want to do to Jerry what they did to Mel Price in 1986.

Let me tell you something. Without Jerry Costello's help, Mel Price would have lost to his opponent in 1986. Jerry Costello organized local Democrats to be loyal to Mel for his last term and to re-elect him one last time. It was a close election where Mel won by less than 100 votes. It was because of Jerry Costello and other Democrats who stood side by side with our hero, Mel Price.

I don't believe that Bill Price would lock arms with the same people who trashed his father and tried to run him out of office.

Sound off!

To call the Journal "Sound Off!" line, dial 277-9522 and leave your message. We won't print personal attacks or unfair criticism of individuals or businesses. Please keep your comments direct and reasonable.

Landlord, slumlord not same thing

I'm calling about the slum landlords in the 2000 to 2400 blocks of Granite City. I am a landlord and I consider myself a slum landlord. I keep two units and I live in them. The problem isn't fixing up these apartments because I get comments about how tidy they are.

The problem is getting rid of the tenant. After moving in, they fail to pay their rent on time and what was supposed to be a young couple usually includes two or more children or a grand-mother.

How do you evict a woman with three children and another one on the way? The problem isn't slum landlords or enforcing the laws that are in effect now. The problem is getting the tenant out.

Give law teeth with fines

I just read the Granite City Press-Record for Sept. 3 and an article about ordinance violators vexing city officials. Make the fine $500 at least and find a way to take their drivers licenses away. Apparently we do need to visit the license ordinance and put some teeth into it.

Let's do something. Granite City looks terrible.

Consolidate editions

This is a suggestion that the Granite City Journal be published once weekly instead of the current twice weekly. The Press-Record is published once weekly and correspondingly, the Journal could also be published once weekly.

This would give more time to the production staff and would reduce the cost of producing the newspaper. Many people today have more time to adequately read or peruse three local papers each week.

By consolidating the Journal, this would free up time for the readers as well as for the staff.

(Editor's note: The Press-Record wasn't always a weekly paper. It, too, was published twice a week before merging with the Journal more than a decade ago. The three issues published today are the result of a consolidation of those two papers.)

Burning bar leaves dilemma

I knew it would happen and it has. I have a yard filled with leaves that the Collinsville city fathers decided I can't burn.

I don't want to get arrested or fined, but I do want them out of my yard. I also can't afford spending an extra $20 to get the trashman to haul them away. I'm not healthy enough to keep raking my leaves over them until they're gone; I can barely rake them up to burn them.

What is it I'm supposed to do now?

Suspicious blazes being investigated

By Paul Mackie

Staff writer

A smell of smoke was still evident Tuesday in Cottonwood, where two more suspected arson fires were being investigated by Glen Carbon police and firefighters.

Village police discovered evidence of arson. They then took two suspects, who allegedly set fires to a pair of homes in a remote neighborhood, Village III, at the back of the Cottonwood subdivision.

Structures at B3 Village Circle Drive and 3 Sassafras Drive were both destroyed by fire Monday. The blazes followed another suspected arson at B1 Village Circle Drive last week.

"Once the fire department completes its investigation and tells us it was arson, we can take over and start checking into those cases," said Sgt. James Jones of the Glen Carbon Police Department.

The following is the police's description of Monday's events:

An officer en route to the scene was nearly struck head on by an old, blue Oldsmobile Cutlass speeding from the area of the fires. The officer, who recognized the vehicle and already had its registration number, proceeded on to the fires.

After extinguishing the flames at B3 Village Circle Drive, the firefighter told the officer it appeared there was a flammable liquid had been poured along a wall and in the kitchen.

While still investigating the fire, the police department advised that a structure at 3 Sassafras Drive was engulfed in flames.

After discovering that the car in question was owned by an Indianapolis man, the officer contacted the owner, who said the car had been taken with out his permission by his son. He said he didn't report it stolen because he didn't want to get his son in trouble.

An Edwardsville officer later discovered information that the man's son had sold the car to two men for $40.

The Edwardsville officer said the man's son had been known to do this type of thing in the past to support a drug habit.

"The car was found later with gloves in it that were burnt," Jones said.

Police found the car abandoned near the home that had burned at 3 Sassafras Drive.

The gloves were coated in a black charcoal-type substance and appeared to have been exposed to heat. Police also found a red folder with a name on it.

Other nearby structures have suffered damage as a result of the fires at B3 Village Circle Drive, all of which are part of a neighborhood that is currently in the midst of a lengthy condemnation battle.

"I understand of the neighborhood is being cleared for a village, which wants the 44 buildings in Village III demolished because of rats and many other hazards," Jones said.

Madison County Chief Associate Judge Randall Boni ruled Aug. 20 that the homes must go by February. The homes are trailer-like units that are each split into two rental sections.

Pecher said that she, like most everyone else, last night who didn't have a ticket, was sitting in front of the TV.

"We were all waiting for him to do it," she said.

In the USA China Buffet restaurant on Johnson Road, all talk was on baseball. One man there said he admired the way the St. Louis players were pulling for McGwire, especially Chicago's Sammy Sosa, who came in from the outfield to congratulate McGwire.

The Granite City Park District has been keeping track of McGwire's record for the past few weeks with the help of Meter Mover, a backstop on Fehling Road in Wilson Park.

Dave Polivick, director of parks and recreation, said that along with the help of maintenance men Joe Zellerman and Dallas Nunn, Ace Hardware paid for the materials.

Park officials had scheduled a youth softball planning meeting for Tuesday night, but when it became clear McGwire would soon break the record, they postponed the meeting until later this month.

"Little did we know this would be a bad night," Polivick joked.

McGwire's slugging has been great for the whole region, he said. At the baseball banquet next month, the district plans to incorporate

Edgar appoints Ryan to chair Commission

Illinois Gov. Jim Edgar has appointed Attorney General Jim Ryan to chair a 23-member commission examining ways to better coordinate state and local efforts to help reduce truancy, drop-out rates and delinquent behavior among at-risk youths.

The Youth At-Risk Commission will examine the problems facing young people across Illinois, and help coordinate efforts at the state and local levels to overcome those problems, and help more kids stay in school, according to the news of their ability and avoid disruptive or delinquent behavior—that can get them started on "the wrong path in life," Edgar said.

The advisory commission was established by House Joint Resolution 53, and includes representatives from the departments of Public Aid, Human Services, Children and Family Services, and Corrections, along with the Illinois Juvenile Justice Commission, the Illinois State Board of Education, the Illinois Attorney General's Office and the Illinois General Assembly.

The commission membership also includes representatives from several regional and local education groups, including teacher unions, and experts in the fields of truancy, at-risk youth and alternative education.

workers and machinists into one large organization. Leo J. Mushill, United Steel Workers of America coordinator, said the three unions are looking to merge by 2000.

"We seem to be consolidating more," he said.

Other big issues facing many unions in 1998 center on the North American Free Trade Agreement and the so-called fast track legislation. That latter gives the president authority to negotiate the terms of international agreements without Congressional say-so.

"(Steel) imports from Asia, Russia and Turkey on the East and West coasts are dragging prices down at mid-mills," Mushill said. "Imports coming in tend to drive down prices at mini-mills which drives down prices at integrated mills."

The quality of the steel isn't as good, and customers can come to major mills in the country and get steel for $40 or $50 a-ton less at the mini-mills, he said.

"It's a downward (price) spiral with all the imports coming in," he said.

Meanwhile, the Federation of Teachers Local 743 has marched on Mayor Mike's parade, for a possible strike next week if the Madison City School Board do not reach an agreement this week. However, union and district spokesmen said Tuesday they thought a work stoppage can be avoided.

Local 743's president, who is up for election — including U.S. Rep Jerry Costello — were visible in Granite City Monday and earlier at the Labor Jam 1998 held Saturday in Wood River. Costello served as grand marshal for the Labor Day parade. He is seeking re-election this year. Costello has enjoyed favor among unions since he succeeded Mel Price to the congressional seat in the 1980s.

A state provision creates a liability for school districts, the board maintains, in that when a teacher retires under the new system at 65 with 34 years of service, districts must pay a sum to the Teachers' Retirement System, equal to the teacher's final salary.

Board members say that means for every teacher who retires in 1998-99, the district will pay $56,000 to the Teachers' Retirement System, which they say, potentially comes to $456,000 in 1998-99, $121,000 in 1999-2000, and $125,000 in the 2000-01 school year.

Turner said earlier this week that even though the district has received a large amount of state money this year, officials haven't sat down to talk with the teachers about it as they had in years past. Other sticking points, he said, include medical plans for new teachers and salaries.

"They're wanting to put new teachers into HMO-type plans," he said, which the teachers do not favor.

The board is offering teachers a 24.76 percent increase in state money over the next three years, said Superintendent Steve Balen, which is an increase that compares favorably to other Madison County districts.

For the next three school years through 2001, Edwardsville School District teachers will see a 2.5 percent pay increase and Alton a 16.32 percent increase as compared to Granite City's 21.8 percent pay increase, Balen said.

•Walk

Walkers collect pledges from friends, family and co-workers to raise money for MS. They go toward the Society's goal and the devastating effects of MS on individuals, families and the community.

Granite City residents Darlene Lefever and Karen Angle are chairing this year's MS Walk. To register, call (800) FIGHT-MS, online at www.msnms.org or fax at (314) 781-1440.

On-site registration for the 12-mile walk starts at 8 a.m. Sept. 19 at the No. 8 Shelter in Wilson Park.

In addition to supporting research projects, the money raised provides vital services to more than 100,000 people living with MS in the eastern half of Missouri and Southern Illinois.

Service programs include a support and education Helpline, a telephone support and referral service; community education efforts; counseling; and a resource library center with numerous publications and video materials that address all facets living with MS.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic, often disabling disease of the central nervous system. Advances in research and treatment are giving hope to those affected by the disease.

Control those grass-grubbing pests

Here's some tips to save your lawn

Most everyone with a lawn or garden is familiar with the sight of flying Japanese beetles in the summer. These pesky insects cause millions of dollars in damage each year by feeding on the leaves of other plants. Although Japanese rose bushes, fruit trees and these beetles are a nuisance, what's even worse is their offspring.

Each year these grass grub larvae cause even more damage than their adult counterparts because they feed on the roots of grass, flowers and bushes. Grubs can destroy an otherwise healthy lawn by preventing water from reaching the root system. The result of extensive damage is brown and patchy turf which, in some areas, can be pulled up like a carpet.

If you roll back the grass, you can see the white C-shaped larvae in the soil close to the ground.

"The signs of grub infestation are obvious," says Select Agri-Eco Environmental Health at 654-1733.

"If you roll back the grass, you can see the white C-shaped larvae in the soil close to the ground."

How can you get rid of grubs? Lucas recommends using a product labeled for grub control and offers these tips.

Timing is everything. The grub is the weakest link in the year-long life cycle of the Japanese beetle. For best results, make sure that application dates place in the window when grubs are newly hatched and feeding, or in the spring before they emerge as adults.

Measure the size of your lawn in square feet so you can determine the amount of product needed for accurate control.

Remember "less is more" when using insecticides. Select a product that offers low average rates of less than three pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Always read and follow label instructions.

Remove any accumulated thatch (plant litter) so the insecticide can reach the soil.

Apply uniformly with a broadcast spreader to assure complete coverage. Be sure to calibrate your spreader for the appropriate amount of granules.

Thoroughly saturate the treated area with water immediately after application for maximum effectiveness.

As when using any chemical, wear gloves and protective clothing, and always remember to wash hands and materials thoroughly after handling.

Teachers, school board hope to avoid strike

GRANITE CITY — Granite City School District 9 teachers could strike next week if they and district officials don't agree on a contract, but both sides feel confident a work stoppage can be averted.

Teachers with Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743, filed a notice of intent to strike last week. Their collective bargaining agreement with the district ends Saturday; if no agreement is reached after that date, teachers would go on strike.

Tom Turner, president of Local 743, said he believes the matter could be settled Friday afternoon if the district truly want to settle, and said he didn't think the teachers and board of education would do that.

A negotiation session is scheduled for this Friday. The teachers union will meet on Sunday to discuss the results of Friday's meeting. If the results are unfavorable to the teachers, a strike vote would be held.

The two parties are at odds over payment of teachers' share of the new 2.2 retirement system along with medical insurance as well as salary. Superintendent Steve Bales said Tuesday morning, Bales said the board's offer to teachers is well above even better than any other district's in Madison County.

Clubs come under fire

VENICE — A rash of violent incidents at a Venice nightclub, including a fatal shooting Aug. 23, has prompted city officials to take a closer look at drinking spots throughout the town.

Alcohol sales enforcement of closing times and age prohibitions against under-age drinking is necessary.

However, police say they are short-handed and cannot do much without help from an outside agency such as the Illinois State Police.

In the latest incident, Madison resident Orlando Porter, 23, was charged two weeks ago with one count of first degree murder in the shooting death of Cory D. Williams, 19. Porter was captured at the Madison County Jail, with bail set at $500,000. The shooting occurred at the entrance to Club Venice, located at 740 Broadway.

The nightclub has been the scene of a number of violent incidents this past year, including at least one other shooting.

At the Sept. 1 meeting, aldermen said problems at that club — and others in the city — need to be addressed.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said he had received complaints about under-age drinking, unruly crowds and illegal parking near several nightclubs.

Chief James Newsome said that they generally give tavern owners about 15 minutes after closing to clear out customers. One problem with enforcement is that because of all the training classes, the city police department is short-handed.

Newsome said that they should be getting some help from the Illinois State Police in the near future, and he hoped to be able to step up enforcement.

First effort ends

MT. VERNON — When the Madison County Board approved Mitchell's revised map in July, the incorporators' 1997 appeal of the dismissal of a much larger map became moot.

The City of Edwardsville joined Granite City, Alton and Collinsville in the appeal in the U.S. Court of Appeals in Mt. Vernon.

The move does not affect the incorporation petition — currently before a Madison County judge for consideration — but merely brings to an official and Mitchell supporters' first effort to affect the map.

A hearing on the new petition is set for Dec. 17. The County Board approved Mitchell's 7.28-square-mile map in July. Now, a Madison County judge must decide whether the new map meets population requirements and whether to put the matter on the April 1999 ballot.

Koop to speak at SIUE

EDWARDSVILLE — Rich Walker, coordinator for SIUE's Arts and Issues series, said he is pleased the former U.S. surgeon general will visit the campus, especially because Koop only recently made himself available for speaking.

Koop's staff uncovered Walker's original request after Koop began his education video series.

"I like what he's been doing, warning everyone about second-hand smoke," Walker said. "I'm responsible for the warning on every pack of cigarettes and tobacco ads," Walker said.

After serving two terms as surgeon general from 1981 to 1989 under President Ronald Reagan, Koop continued to educate the public through lectures, news programs, writings, media appearances and university lectures.

Koop alerted the public about the dangers of smoking, environmental health hazards and the importance of diet, nutrition, immunization and disease prevention, Walker said. He also became the government's chief spokesman about AIDS. As surgeon general, he oversaw the activities of the 6,000-member Public Health Service Commissioned Corps.

Koop will speak at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Meridian Ballroom of the SIUE campus's Morris University Center. Tickets for Koop's appearance are $6 and $3 for students. For more information, call 650-2626 or from St. Louis, 1-800-328-5100, extension 2320, or write Arts & Issues, SIUE, Edwardsville, 62026-1083.

Regional Human Rights Authority meets today

The Metro East Regional Human Rights Authority and Advocacy Commission will meet at 6 p.m. today, Sept. 10, at the Illinois Department of Transportation, Regional Conference Room, 1100 Eastport Plaza, Collinsville.

At that time, they will review and discuss complaints concerning allegations that the rights of persons with disabilities are being violated at private and public facilities that provide mental health or developmental disability services.

The Regional Human Rights Authority is investigating cases in Madison, St. Clair, Montgomery, Macoupin, and Clinton Counties. Cases tentatively set for this meeting will include complaints involving alleged violations of the Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Code and the Nursing Home Care Act.

If you believe the rights of a person with disabilities are being violated, you may report this at the meeting or contact the Authority's Regional Coordinator at 4500 College Ave., Alton, IL, 62002, 462-4561. All complaints are kept confidential.

Local Lions Club celebrates 5 years

The Granite City Lions Club — chartered Aug. 23, 1993 — celebrated its fifth anniversary on Aug. 23 by installing new officers.

Lion Ken Turcott will take the reins as president.

Region 5 Chairman Lion Theresa Starko installed the officers. Lion Gene Jordan of Edwardsville Lions, the local club's chartering, and Past District Governor Mike Starko were present. The Edwardsville Lions Club was the sponsor when the club was chartered.

Lion Marlene Cook received the Lion of the Year Award at the installation.

In 1996, out of 60 clubs in the district, the Granite City Lions Club placed third, of which they are proud. In the past five years, the club has held many fund-raisers, for which they would like to thank the public, local businesses and Granite City for all the support.

With the fund-raisers and support of the community, the club has been able to donate $18,000 to Lions activities as well as to the community. The club has purchased 39 pairs of eyeglasses and needs more. They have 2,540 pairs of used eyeglasses, 592 lenses, 630 eyeglass cases and 27 hearing aids that are recycled by Lions International for the needy throughout the world.

The club has participated in local parades, walk for cancer and drop walks.

The club is a service organization. Anyone interested in joining the local Lions Club should call Turcott at 877-6776.

Association hopes event will help fill pantries

By Jason White
Staff writer

St. Louis area residents are being asked to join local food pantries in next month's St. Louis Metro Food Pantry Association's Walk for Hunger.

The 5-mile walk will start at 10 a.m. Oct. 17 in the upper Muny Theatre parking lot in Forest Park. Registration starts at 9 a.m.

Prior to the walk, participants collect pledges for each kilometer. Groups turning in the most money will get a $500 gift certificate.

Each location will feature a different group and walkers will celebrate after the walk with a party featuring a live band, I'mo's pizza and Pepsi products.

The Pantry Association sponsors the annual fund-raiser, which provides about $100,000 each year to some 400 independent neighborhood food pantries in the St. Louis area.

The fund-raisers are crucial during an era of federal and state cutbacks in aid for needy families, association executive Cynid Stevens said in a letter publicizing the event.

Hunger is more prevalent now than at any time since the Great Depression, according to the association. Sixty-four percent of St. Louis city school children receive free or reduced lunch.

"More and more working families are depending on neighborhood food pantries to make ends meet," Stevens wrote. "Pantries are struggling to keep up with a hunger problem that is expanding beyond their present resources."

Ninety percent of all money raised in the name of Cahokia Community Basket will be returned to the agency. The food pantry will use the money to pay for administrative expenses, publicity, projects such as the walk and helping other pantries.

McGwire's 61st HR was a memorable moment for writer

Yes, I can be among the 500,000 people 10 years from now who claimed they were at Busch Stadium to witness Mark McGwire's historic recording 61st homer on Monday, Sept. 7, 1998.

But, unlike the 450,000 wannabees, I was actually there among the 50,000-plus delirious fans in attendance. It was a special moment for my family because all three of my sons were with me while we witnessed a part of baseball history. I don't know if my sons — ages 19, 17 and 13 — appreciated the historical significance as much as I did. I have been blessed to witness several other historical baseball moments in my lifetime.

Back in October of 1968, I was a member of the media as a writer for McGraw's and sat with Bob Gibson outduel 30-game winner Denny McLain in the opening game of the 1968 World Series. Gibson struck out a World Series record 17 batters.

Then in 1985, we witnessed Ozzie Smith hit his dramatic "Go crazy, folks, go crazy" home run to beat the Dodgers in a playoff game that propelled the Cardinals into the World Series.

What we saw at Busch Stadium on Monday topped everything. Bigger-than-life McGwire brought the fans to their feet every time he cast his huge shadow. There was such a feel-good atmosphere in the stadium that the Cubs players Sammy Sosa and Gary Gaetti received standing ovations from the appreciative Cardinals fans.

No, this isn't a Hollywood script. This was Mark McGwire's achievement, one of the truly amazing stories in sports history. I thought winning the heavyweight boxing championship of the world was sports greatest achievement. After all, McGwire has done with Sosa playing a major supporting role, has changed my mind until, at least, another champion arose like a Muhammad Ali.

McGwire, especially on Tuesday night, wrestled the home run championship away from the Yankees' stranglehold. After all, baseball's home run king had been a Yankees player — either Babe Ruth or Roger Maris — since 1934. Ruth twice added to his record-setting 54 homers of 1920 by hitting 59 in 1921 and then 60 in 1927. Roger Maris took over for Ruth in 1961 by hitting 61 homers.

McGwire, however, has held off Sosa and will put a Cardinals name in the record book as the home run king. It's so unbelievable that it's ridiculous to even think of a Cardinals player as the home run king. In the team's history as a club featuring speed, defense and pitching, Bronx Bombers, yes, Cardinal Crushers, huh?

When McGwire smashed Mike Morgan's third pitch to him in Monday's first inning 430 feet away down the left-field line against the Stadium Club window, history was made. His 61st homer appropriately came on his father's 61st birthday. After Ray Lankford greeted him at home plate, there was McGwire's 10-year-old bat boy son, Matthew, to offer his congratulations. I swear Big Mac picked him 60 inches off the ground.

In his postgame interview, McGwire talked openly about the importance of his father, mother and his son being there to share the moment. He also saluted the Maris family — Roger's wife, four sons and two daughters — which was on hand to thrill in the moment.

Cubs players also got into the act. Paul Konerko, for one, openly acknowledged McGwire's historic homer when Big Mac rounded first base, as did third baseman Gaetti when Big Mac made it to third. In right field, Sosa clapped into his glove. Later, Sosa hugged McGwire at first base after singling in the eighth inning.

With all that's wrong with the world, McGwire showed what's right with the world. The only thing wrong with the script was that the game should have been played on Father's Day instead of Labor Day.

Collinsville hosts Granite City tonight

Throw the records out when Granite City and Collinsville meet in any sport.

But when it comes to boys soccer, the Cahokias insist.

Collinsville is 3-3 following a victory against Granite City on Monday, while Granite City is 7-3 tonight. The Warriors are 4-1 after Tuesday's win against Alton.

Collinsville and Granite City will also meet in girls volleyball, 7:30 p.m. tonight in Collinsville.

Vianney pins tough loss on Warriors

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

There are two ways to use the term "knifed" in a story. One is to describe a sharp, quick movement. The other connotes thoughts of murder in dark alleys.

St. Louis Vianney High School managed to combine both on a steamy Saturday night at the Gauntlet en route to a 2-0 victory against Granite City.

"I think they are a talent-laden team that played unduly dirty," said Granite City coach Gene Baker. "They are a physically imposing team that doesn't need to play the way they played tonight."

"We had a close 2-0 game marred by dirty play."

Two plays in particular riled Granite City fans.

On a whistle stopped play, Warriors sophomore defender Andy Ronk exchanged words with Vianney senior midfielder Brian Peroutka — then Peroutka head-butted Ronk. The referee gave Peroutka a yellow card.

Later in the game, Granite City junior forward Dave Margrabe was hauled down from behind in the penalty box as he attacked the net.

Boys SOCCER

"The foul on Margrabe should have been a penalty kick and a red card," said Baker. "There's no excuse for that."

In all, Vianney received four yellow cards, two to Mike Kirchoff, Matt Logush, Tim Powers and Kevin Rea. Granite City's sophomore sweeper, Jarod MacMillian, got booked early in the second half.

"Jarod was never really in a flow tonight," Baker said. "But he's growing into a good player."

The Griffins opened the scoring in the third minute. Brian Schwarze took a pass from Matt Logush and scored on a header.

In the 43rd minute, the Warriors defense broke down and let Greg Gillman wander into their midst. He took advantage of their oversights with a lightning perfect shot that Warriors keeper Brandon Williams didn't even have a chance on.

The Warriors had bright spots on the night. Though they were dominant in the first half, the Griffins had their own on the field, making several runs that they just couldn't finish off with goals. In front of the net, Williams turned in yet another solid game and made the first stop toward the end of the first half to keep the game close.

"We had some injuries, so we weren't at the top of our game," said Baker. "I thought Corey (Winfield) and Justin (Sosa) played well, considering they were hurt."

"I think overall we had as many chances as they did. We showed we could play with a team like that."

"We have to have a bit more heart, more zeal and enthusiasm. We're trying to grow, so we need to display more unity on the field. The only thing we lack is aggressiveness. I think that's because we don't play enough good teams in the off-season."

"We played hard," said sophomore forward Brian Kirchoff. "After all, we are one of the best teams in St. Louis, who are much bigger and stronger than we are, we did all right. It was just our first loss, so we'll be OK."

Somewhat surprising is that Hutchinson, who outscored the Griffins 10-0, went in for a 50-50 battle with Vianney's Justin Naber, a senior who towers at least a foot taller and is about 100 pounds heavier than Hutchinson.

Granite City bounces back against Alton with 7-0 SWC victory

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

Corey Winfield broke a scoreless tie with an assisted goal midway through the first half and Granite City went on to crush Alton 7-0 at home Tuesday night.

The Warriors advanced to 4-1 for the season with the shutout victory. Brandon Williams has been in goal for all four Granite City shutouts (including previous blankings of Peoria Richwood, St. Charles Memorial and St. Charles County, Mo., Francis Howell Central).

Winfield's goal came at the 21 minutes 20 seconds mark in the first half.

"Corey's goal was the game-winner, then we broke it open," said Granite City coach Gene Baker. (See SOCCER, Page 3B)

Tigers bring potent offense to Granite City

Special to the Press-Record

If Granite City hopes to have a chance of ending its losing streak at just two games this Friday night at home, the Warriors defense is going to have to stop a fearsome pair of runners.

PREP FOOTBALL

Including one-sided victories against Millington (Tenn.) and St. Louis Naval Jr. ROTC.

Edwardsville, a playoff participant in 1997, comes rolling for a 7:30 p.m. start home Friday. The Tigers will be the third playoff participant in three weeks to start the season for Granite City, which has lost to Cahokia and O'Fallon.

Edwardsville looks just as strong as it did during last year's 8-2 campaign and carries the strong running of Joe Bevis and Travis Evans.

Bevis, a 6-0, 193-pound fullback, was limited to 93 yards on 15 carries this past Friday by Naval Jr. ROTC. Bevis stepped up with 129 yards on 14 carries. Each running back scored twice for the Tigers in a 34-7 victory.

"We knew about (Joe) Bevis," said NJROTC coach Larry Schleicher. "We knew he ran for 330 yards against O'Fallon last year so he wasn't a surprise. What they did wasn't a surprise.

What they did is show what a good program they are. They run the same offense every day and they dare you to stop it. Unfortunately, we didn't stop it enough tonight."

Naval Jr. ROTC even attempted to pack several linemen and linebackers close to the line in an attempt to stop the run.

"They were packing some guys in the box and we did what we had to do," Edwardsville coach Jim Dougherty said. "We didn't get the big plays but I thought the kids hung in there and drove the ball when we needed to."

The Naval Jr. ROTC was especially wary of Bevis, who ran for more than 1,000 yards last year and opened the season with 172 yards on 26 carries against Millington. That allowed running room for Evans, a tailback who scored on 22- and 6-yard TD runs.

Bevis scored on two 4-yard TD runs, and the J.R. Ziegler added a touchdown from three yards out.

Evans also topped the century mark in the opener, rushing for 104 yards on 14 carries against Millington. Ziegler added 96 yards rushing on nine carries against Millington, helping a 447-yard rushing attack in Edwardsville's 46-16 triumph.

The Tigers have another weapon in Matt Allaria, a junior quarterback who succeeds his brother Mark in directing the Edwardsville offense. Matt Allaria rushed for 75 yards in the opener against Millington and passed for 58 yards on 5-of-5 passing against Naval Jr. ROTC.

O'Fallon posted a 31-15 victory against Granite City (top, charging onto field, above, swarming O'Fallon quarterback Jason Smith) last Friday.

James wraps up Sportsmen Class points crown

B.J. Sheets, Molkenbur also clinch points titles in respective divisions at Tri-City

By Jim Wieners
Correspondent

For the first month of the Tri-City Speedway season, Tim Barrett appeared to be the favorite in the Quaker State Sportsmen Class with four victories and a 120-point lead over Rick Squires, 994 to 874.

Even though Barrett has more than 10 feature wins, Terry James took command in points in May and hasn't looked back.

James won his fourth feature last Saturday at Tri-City and clinched the points championship. The feature win was his second straight in the Short Track (B Class) Modifieds and gave James 1,028 points.

Joe Dreschel, 64 points behind James, won his fourth feature last Saturday and nabbed 1,028 points back.

The season-ending "Winston Night of Champions" races are set for this Saturday with a maximum of 60 points per race.

James held off Joe Dreschel in last Saturday's race. Gary Hall finished third.

"I'm glad the points deal is over," said James.

B.J. Sheets and Billy Molkenbur also ended the points races for their respective divisions, although they did not win features on Saturday.

AUTORACING

Sheets placed fifth in the Mountain Dew State Stock feature and with a 120-point lead over Rick Squires, 994 to 874.

Wade Glover won the feature and has a chance to catch Squires. Glover is 868 points, just six behind Squires, who hit the final pole on the fourth turn of lap 12 and finished 14th.

Molkenbur finished second in the Tri-City Charger Series and clinched the points championship.

Mike Hearty, who posted a heat victory July 25 in the inaugural outing for the Chargers Series, won his first feature on Saturday night.

Hearty, seventh in the points race, led from the third lap of the 12-lap feature.

John Dickerman kept alive his slim hopes of repeating as Budweiser Pro Stocks ShowTrack Series points champion with a seventh-place finish.

James' points lead over Squires is 140 to 138. Dickerman won his fourth feature of the season, last Sunday, over second-place Bubb Smith with Brian Couch, David Barden and Paul Schrepel rounding out the top five.

Points leader Terry McClintock was involved in an opening-lap accident in the first heat. Minus the front of the car, McClintock started 11th and finished 10th in the feature.

McClintock leads Dickerman by 48 points. He needs just one to clinch the title and already had the title in hand if not for accidents each of the past two weeks.

"Terry really deserves to win the points title," Dickerman said. "Whatever happens, happens. It's up to him to happen."

In the NASCAR Winston Racing Series Modifieds, John Sheets stretched his points lead over Ray Walsh to 100 points when he won the victory lane. Mike Null Jr. led after the first lap and out-raced Sheets to the finish.

John Sheets finished third while Patrick Lawson and Jake Sheets III rounded out the top five.

Ray Walsh, who had said he would not return to Tri-City after incidents during the Aug. 29 race, returned and was black-flagged for rough driving following a driving incident with Terry Bolen. Walsh was scored last in the field.

Tri-City Speedway presents Winston Night of Champions

Two championships will be decided at 7:30 p.m. as Tri-City Speedway presents "Winston Night of Champions."

With only 36 points separating them, John Sheets and Ray Walsh will conclude their season-long battle in the NASCAR Winston Racing Series Modifieds crown in the final and deciding race. The two have battled neck-and-neck over the course of the 24-event season and the champion will be invited to compete for the NASCAR Winston Racing Series Mid-America region championship, worth $40,500.

The Budweiser Pro Stock champion goes down to the wire also, with a mere 48 points separating Terry McClintock and John Dickerman, the defending 1997 champion. Speedway is located one-half mile south of Interstate 270 on Illinois Route 203 South (exit 4).

Collinsville offense puts together solid ground game

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Ground control.

The term, associated with space flight, has been used for the high-flying Collinsville football team this season.

PREP FOOTBALL

Kahoks (2-0)

have accumulated 74 points in their first two games by putting the ball in the air but via ground control — running attack.

The Kahoks rolled 169 yards of rushing offense in those first two games — against Civic Memorial and Mascoutah.

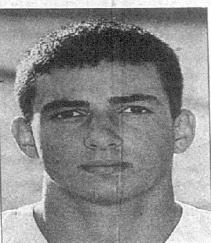

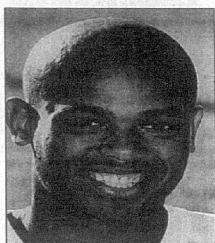

The running game is big reason why Kahoks succeed for the first time in the 1998 season.

"In general, I think running backs have done tremendous job in the first two games," said second-year Collinsville coach Tim Kane.

"They are running so much more authority, so much more decisiveness than what we did last year. And I think Eric Stewart and Kory Kimbrell are the guys right now, averaging into the hole very quickly. They are doing a good job reading their blocks and they are running with a hard hitting style."

Kane believes the difference between a good running attack and an average or is a team's desire to explode through the holes created by the offensive line. Through two games, the Kahoks are averaging 7.5 yards a carry which means opponents' defensive lines have had a hard time stopping the Kahok backs.

"There is a huge difference between a guy who goes to the hole quick to a guy who gets there average to a guy who gets there average to a guy who gets in there slow." Kane said. "The better the defense that you play, the quicker they are going to run and the more explosive they are going to have at the point of attack. As a running back, the faster you can get in there, then that is going to be a better position for you to have a chance to miss you. If you are a hair slow, that gives them an extra step to a make a play."

Exploding through the hole has been one of Kane's points of emphasis since he took over the program last season. Kane thought the Collinsville ground game was the best in the last year during a 3-6 season that included no wins on the field.

During the off-season, Kane had the players buy into a training program that would give the offense an extra burst of speed.

"I think there are a couple of reasons," Kane said. "Being team around but I do know that we are quicker off the ball and that is an improvement."

Senior Kory Kimbrell has made a noticeable improvement from a year ago. He burst onto the scene his sophomore year with some timely running and a punishing style. Last year, teams keyed on Kimbrell, who had a difficult time even making it to the line of scrimmage.

This year, Kimbrell is back in the form of his sophomore campaign — one stronger and more explosive. Kimbrell has rushed for more than 100 yards in each of the Kahoks' first two games.

"I've told Kory on a number of occasions that it has been daylight to dark from one year to the next," Kane said. "He is a lot more physical runner. He is a lot better blocker. He is just more explosive overall, which is a lot different."

Both Civic Memorial and Mascoutah brought more players to the line of scrimmage this year, according to Kane.

But the Kahoks have another weapon this season — Eric Stewart.

Stewart, a junior, has shown great speed and a tough running style.

"Eric Stewart has been just as good as he was last year and has allowed us to have two different tailbacks who are very effective and can complement one another. Eric Stewart has really come along for a kid who is a junior and has really stepped it up to this level very nicely." We certainly expect him to be able to continue that throughout the year."

A healthy John Kinscherff has been added to the Kahoks squad. Kinscherff was injured much of last season and did not make much of an impact. But he worked hard during the off-season, setting a new school record in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles. And his quickness has already paid off with a 75-yard punt.

"Kinscherff has played our wing position and is doing a nice job. He has to do quite a bit of blocking," Kane said.

Collinsville running back Kory Kimbrell fights for extra yards. He is the leading returning rusher for the Kahoks and has picked up more than 100 yards in each of the first two games.

"He also carries the ball for us on counters or a reverse or we hit him on a cross route. John is fast, which is pretty evident by his punt return for a touch down."

Steve Ballinger, a starter in the Kahoks secondary, has come in certain offensive possessions to give the offense a boost with his sizzling speed.

"Steve hasn't got a whole lot of carries but every time he touches the ball something good happens," Kane said.

"He's averaging about 10 yards per carry. I think Kory and Eric are averaging about 8 yards per carry. Things like that are good, but it has only been two games."

er. "It gives us some pride to bounce back like that."

"I was a good win against a team that upset us last year. We had better execution tonight."

The Warriors, who started the season with three victories, were eliminated off the 20-shout loss last Saturday at home against to St. Louis Vianney.

But once Granite City put in one goal Tuesday, many followed.

Brad Hutchings scored at 24:46 of the first half, and the Warriors were in command 2-0, at halftime. Sophomore Bob Scott assisted on Hutchings' goal.

"This was our first (Southwestern) conference game, so it's something to begin with," said Baker. "We got three goals and four assists off of our bench, which is significant."

The Warriors' next game is tonight at Collinsville — a place that can be tough on the opposition.

ings. Hutchings stole the ball and they both emerged from the pile — Hutchings to play on, Baker to limp to the side-lines.

"We played well, but not up to our potential," said Winfield. "They're good size and we're small, so we had to utilize our speed, which is our strength."

Though they weren't able to score, the Warriors would give themselves a passing grade on their first two games of the season. But it left a bitter taste in their mouths.

"We believe in physical play," said Baker. "Part of it was that we were a little bit of a tough loss to (St. Louis) C.B.C. so that contributed."

"But there is no reason to allow plays that could end a life, a season, or career. Some of those mistakes could have broken legs."

AROUND THE AREA

Here's what happened around the Metro East in the past week:

St. Clair County

Glenn says land buy is suspect

The St. Clair County Board has agreed to pay six and one-half times the price paid five years ago for MidAmerica Airport development land.

The board agreed to purchase 61.75 acres for $800,000 on Monday. Five years ago, the price was approximately $20,000 per acre.

Board member Robert Glenn opposed the vote, saying the price should be no more than a third of $13,000 an acre for farm land with no improvements. Glenn also disagreed with voting to spend $800,000 without seeing the appraisal, which was not made available for board members during the meeting.

According to the purchase summary, presented by St. Clair County realty specialist J. Bruce Carey, the amount is based on fair market value appraisal of property.

St. Clair County Board Chairman John Barcic said that because there is an airport there, the price of the property has increased.

County may ban leaf burning

The St. Clair County Board may implement a county-wide leaf burning ban if health hazards from leaf burning continue this fall.

The county adopted a resolution to restrict leaf burning on Monday. It was endorsed by the St. Clair County Medical Society in a letter to County Board Chairman John Barcic.

The effort is the result of growing concern over the negative health effects of leaf burning and pollution.

The letter states that 40,000 Americans die prematurely each year from respiratory illness and heart attacks linked to particle exposure.

According to the St. Clair Regional Office of Education, the number one reason why children miss school is because of asthma related problems.

Many St. Clair County municipalities already have leaf burning ordinances in place.

Lebanon

McKendree has 13 valedictorians in fall semester class

The quality of the student body at McKendree College in Lebanon continues to rise.

When McKendree opened the fall semester Aug. 26, 25 high school valedictorians were among the college's 250 incoming freshmen.

Last year, the freshmen class included a record seven valedictorians. This year, not only have the number of students admitted risen, but the average ACT has increased from 22 to 23.5, McKendree publicist Susan Scribner said.

Seven percent of this year's incoming freshmen are participating in McKendree's Honor Program. Nearly half of the freshmen class ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school classes, she added.

The college also boasts a growing student population, and 80 percent of the freshmen are living on campus. While many McKendree students come from the area, the freshmen class includes students from Indiana, Missouri and Texas, too.

Monroe County

Coroner recount set for this week

Monroe County Coroner Julie Gummersheimer's next step in her bid to keep the 20th Illinois Judicial Circuit from possibly removing her from office will come this week.

A recount of 10 of Monroe County's 26 electoral precincts from the 1996 general election is slated for Wednesday and Thursday in the office of Monroe County Clerk Dennis Kneibloch.

Gummersheimer, a Republican, defeated Democratic challenger Leonard DeFabio by two votes in 1996. She requested the recount in April when 20th Circuit Judge Ellen Dauber suggested she was prepared to order the election result over.

The judge ruled every ballot cast in Columbia Precinct 2 — more than 500 was invalid because none of them carried the initials of election judges as required by state law. Exclusion of that precinct, which Gummersheimer carried handily, swung the results in DeFabio's favor by 92 votes — 5,425 to 5,333.

Edward Norton in a scene from "Rounders"

'Rounders' explores world of gambling

Matt Damon, Edward Norton featured

One of the most anticipated films of the fall is "Rounders," a snappy Matt Damon vehicle with his first lead role since the overnight success of "Good Will Hunting."

Damon knows when to hold 'em in this poker-playing drama co-starring Edward Norton and Gretchen Mol.

The idea for the film, which opens Friday, came from a writer's late-night visit three years ago to a Manhattan poker club.

Instantly, Koppelman said he knew,

"I took a look around at the poker table, listened to what they were talking about, I watched the action, and at around two in the morning, I called (co-writer) David (Levien) and I woke him up and I said: 'We have to write a movie about this.' And we started writing the next day."

One year later, after the script was discovered by Ted Demme's and Joel Stillerman's Spanky Pictures, Koppelman and Levien got the green light from Miramax Films. John Dahl was soon named director of the film and Damon — who had impressed Dahl with this role in "Good Will Hunting" — signed on to star in "Rounders."

The movie is set against the backdrop of New York's high-stakes underground poker world. It is the tale of one man's journey to pursue his ultimate dream. Damon stars as Mike McDermott, a master card player who trades his poker-playing ways for a shot at a new life.

The new life, though, is short on thrills. And when a longtime friend named Worm, played faced with the dilemma of whether Mike is back into the world of the "rounders" for the sake of his friend.

Norton makes a run for another Oscar nomination as Damon's morally challenged, fast-talking friend.

Mol plays Damon's girlfriend.

"Matt's got such a knowledge of filmmaking," she said. "He's really smart and sensitive, and he just made me feel comfortable."

Who knows? The Rabbit knows (trivia)

Ron Elz publishes book on local lore, from politics to music to local authors

By Glen Sparks
Staff writer

Ron Elz, "Johnny Rabbitt" to radio listeners, delights in wrapping an ear around tidbits and whispered stories.

He cherishes notes on the facts and figures, people and places of St. Louis.

He cares as much or more for behind-the-scenes tales of political intrigue as the grandstanding that goes on in front of cheering throngs.

Anecdotes of St. Louis watering holes, restaurants, theaters and robust, cigar-chomping politicians — Elz just revels in that stuff.

Each morning, he quizzes his WRTH-AM 1430 radio listeners on St. Louis trivia. His legion of fans never tire of this segment, Elz reports.

"I started doing this 10 years ago," says Elz, 59, who also doubles as operations manager at WRTH. "I do three questions. The reaction has never waned."

"People ask, 'Why don't you write a book? Why don't you write a book?'"

So, Elz, responding to his fans as a top entertainer does, did write a book. Johnny Rabbitt's 1001 St. Louis Trivia Questions ($7.95 from Virginia Publishing Co.) is available at local book stores.

"I started doing this 10 years ago. I do three questions. The reaction has never waned."

Ron Elz

Topics range from sports to politics, stage and screen to famous local authors and to music, parks, restaurants and more.

Remember the Japanese restaurant on Olive Street in Gaslight Square (Kotobuki), the name of the school that preceded St. Mary's High School (South Side Catholic High School) and where the Erie House Hotel was located (the southeast corner of Fourth and Clark streets)?

Sure this is trivia, but sometimes trivia is not so trivial. The best of it can be enlightening.

"I don't want to make this into too big a deal because it's supposed to be entertaining, but people can get a clue as to how people lived, who they were, where they went," Elz says.

Elz's fascination for St. Louis' past began long ago. He still has fond memories of his childhood on Flora Place in south St. Louis. "Even as a kid, I loved to nose around old buildings," he says. "I loved old places, old things."

Another interest, radio, led him to WTMV in East St. Louis. He debuted as a precocious 15-year-old announcer.

"I wanted to do things," Elz says. "I think I wanted to get on with life."

After a couple of years at the University of Michigan, Elz took a job at a radio station in Ann Arbor, Mich. He later broadcast from stations in Detroit, Houston, San Francisco and Boston before returning to St. Louis.

In late 1961, he premiered as Johnny Rabbitt on KXOK. He had been "Specs Early" in Boston.

"Specs" because I had the thick glasses and 'Early' because, I don't know, it was a morning show," Elz says.

Here in St. Louis, he decided

"Joey Rabbitt" sounded like a Mafia guy, "John Rabbitt" sounded stuffy and "Jimmy" sounded

Rabbitt" sounded cartoonish in a way that "Johnny Rabbitt" didn't," Elz says.

'Fools Fall in Love'

hits the mark

Film offers insight into cultural changes of '50s, '60s

Only a handful of movies have captured the excitement and unique character of the era that created rock 'n' roll. "The Idolmaker" and "The Buddy Holly Story" come to mind.

But few seem to have told it as well as Gregory Nava's new film, a movie that might seem the least likely candidate to go beyond its characters—driven by cultural changes mirrored by music in the 1950s and 1960s.

"Why Do Fools Fall in Love" is the story of Frankie Lyman (of Frankie Lyman and the Teenagers) and the tangled, tragic path his life took after dazzling success with the title song and a string of other hits.

The dramatic vehicle is an intriguing true story. Three women came forward after Lyman's death, each claiming to be the rightful widow of the singing star and seeking royalties on his still popular songs. Each claim was questionable, and the matter wound up in a bitterly fought court case. We meet them at the start of this battle.

Through testimony and flashbacks, we learn about Lyman's rise and fall from superstardom to drug addiction and his involvements with three beautiful but very different women.

The female leads—the gorgeous Halle Berry as singing star Zola Taylor of The Platters, Vivica A. Fox as a down-on-her-luck shoplifter and Lela Rochon as a prim school teacher—turn in rich, multi-layered performances.

In a telling moment during a break in court proceedings, one "wife" says to another: "You didn't seem like Frankie's type." The third "wife" chimed in, "It seems everybody was Frankie's type." And therein lies the tale.

Beyond his romances and his problems with a vengeful manager-songwriter (Paul Mazursky in a strong supporting performance) Frankie's life and music serve as a microcosm for an age that was nothing less than revolutionary.

Here was a young black kid from the streets of New York, singing with a group of mostly Hispanic friends, inventing a new musical sound and winning screams of approval from a predominantly white audience.

In one scene, a pretty blonde jumps on stage to jitterbug with the star during a live TV broadcast, sending shivers through crew members who—a white woman—"The show is quickly canceled. Racism prevails.

The most powerful expression of the era's excitement comes in an amazing cameo appearance by Little Richard whose performance as a trial witness is almost as show stopping as his singing style.

In concert scenes, in street scenes and in the Beverly Hills mansion that is the symbol of Zola Taylor's success we see signposts of the era. Costume designer Elisabetta Beraldo has given us female stars in cocktail dresses with wide swirling skirts and male singers decked out in tuxedos. We see go-go girls singing backup, peace demonstrators in the streets and audiences full of girls in pedal pushers and sweater sets, saddle shoes and hair in pony tails. Shag carpeting is the height of home decorating chic.

Production designer Cary White seems to have raided every thrift store around for the authentic costumes and decorations.

Gregory Nava, who directed the musical biography "Selena," brings out the best in all of his stars, not the least of whom is Larenz Tate in the title role. Handsome, energetic and appealing as the young Frankie, the actor, who last appeared as Kevin Costner's sidekick in "The Postman," projects a magnetism that explains each woman's overwhelming attraction to him. And his lip synching of Lyman's songs is perfect. He even does the splits a la Lyman.

NASCAR season ends

Saturday at Tri-City

$40,000 will go to regional champion

The 50th anniversary NASCAR season that began on March 28 at Tri-City Speedway comes to an exciting conclusion with the NASCAR Winston Racing Series Championship set for Saturday.

After 22 nights of racing, John Seats of Brighton and Ray Walsh of St. Louis are still battling each other for the most attractive prize ever at Tri-City Speedway.

The 10 champions from each track in the Mid America Region will be ranked according to their Competition Performance Index for the season.

More than $105,000 will be distributed to the 10 track champions, and the Mid America Regional Champion will receive more than $40,000.

"Tri-City Speedway is proud to make this opportunity available to drivers competing at the Speedway in the NASCAR Racing Series," said Tri-City owner/promoter Bob Wente.

Saturday night will bring an end to the NASCAR Winston Racing Series program and all track champions in each division will be decided.

Terry McClintock of St. Charles leads John Dickerman's Budweiser Pro Stocks of St. Louis. B.J. Seats of Brighton is trying to hold off Rick Squires' Mountain Dew Street Stock from South Roxana, and Terry James is wanting to claim his second Tri-City Speedway Championship over Joe Dresch's Quaker State Sparksman of Brighton.

Spectator gates open at 6 p.m., with racing at 7. Tickets are $9 for adults, $5 for students 11-17 and $2 for children 10 and under. Parking is free.

Upcoming fall events at Tri-City Speedway are: Demo Derby "Border Wars" Sept. 26; Monster Truck Mania VI, Oct. 2-3; and Legends Cars Dirt Nationals, Oct. 10.

Call 931-7836 or (314) 947-7287 for more information. Tri-City Speedway is located just south of Interstate 270 on Illinois 203.

helped developed the classic rock format at KSHE. He also wrote a trivia column for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat from 1983 until that newspaper's demise in 1986.

No surprise for a broadcaster with more than four decades in the business and an admitted trivia buff, the basement of Elz's St. Louis Hills house is full of compact discs, records, books, magazines, photographs and St. Louis odds and ends.

He even has an old telephone book that lists one-time St. Louis resident Charles Lindbergh.

"You know, I look for something with a past," says Elz, who insists his wife, Gwen, does not mind the occasional clutter in the house. "Something that tells a story."

His book, in turn, explores more of St. Louis in the 1920s, '30s and '40s than the '70s, '80s and '90s.

"I did concentrate on some of the older stuff," he says.

Elz figures that the second part of his St. Louis trivia book should be out in another year or so. It shouldn't be hard for him to come up with more material. Heck, he's written another 80 or so questions in the last couple of days.

He still hurries to find a pen and a scrap of paper if he hears some intriguing bit of St. Louis lore that has for some reason eluded him all these decades.

"Oh, I love it when that happens," he says. "Absolutely. I write it down immediately."

And then, bet on it, he'll never forget it.

Water park closes for year

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

Splash City Family Water Park has closed for the season but that doesn't mean that its employees won't be busy.

Collinsville Area Recreation District staff will be busy getting things ready for next year and with a variety of activities planned in its new facility through next spring. The last day of Splash City's first season at Eastport Plaza was Monday.

The water park will reopen during Memorial Day weekend next year.

More signs, equipment repair, locker replacement and completion of a remote-controlled boat marina are among things planned for the park during its down time, CARD Executive Director Mark Badash said.

Staff will be looking at attendance numbers (more than 32,000 in its first, very short season), admission and birthday package prices, and basic operation procedures.

"It took a season to tell what is working and what didn't," Badash said. "All things considered, it went remarkably well."

Planting annuals, modifying the concession stand window and repairing a shower tower in the sand area are also on the off-season agenda. But CARD also has a full line-up of activities planned in its new multi-purpose rooms.

Genealogy classes, aerobics, landscaping and seasonal craft sessions are among things offered this fall and winter.

"We're already getting ready for our first winter season in our new building," Badash said last week. "It's like moving into a new house. You see what works smoothly and what doesn't."

Since it moved into its new offices earlier this summer, CARD is already getting regular requests for use of its activity rooms.

'70s were dark time for nation

Trivia
Kevin Carbery
By Kevin Carbery
Correspondent

In the last few months, movies such as "The Last Days of Disco" and "54" and the television program "That '70s Show" have glorified the disco era.

I'm 36. I was a teenager during the 1970s. I started college when disco was fading out of the picture. Under no circumstances do I want to recall that disco ever existed. The disco lifestyle popularized such things as the leisure suit, platform shoes and gold chains. It was a terrible, dark time for our nation.

I am not saying that everything about the 1970s was horrible. Hollywood produced many terrific movies during the period. "Saturday Night Live" was in its heyday. It was the last time that you could name at least three current boxing champions without consulting an almanac. Then again, disco was not the only plague on the land between 1970 and 1980. Look at somebody's high school yearbook from 1977 and you will see bad clothes and bad hair in abundance. There was the gas shortage and mile-long lines waiting to get to a pump. Detroit put out some truly awful automobiles.

I realize that every generation has its strong and weak points. However, some decades offer more to the world than others. After carefully considering all the factors, I would still have to say that I cannot believe anybody would want to bring back the music, fads and fashions of the '70s. For this week's trivia quiz, the topic is the 1970s. May we never see its like again.

1. Who performed "The Hustle," one of the first popular disco songs?
2. Who was Gerald Ford's running mate in the 1976 presidential race?

Lifeways

available. The event is free and open to the public. Shuttle buses will transport visitors from special event parking to the Interpretive Center area where the activities will take place.

The Kahok Dancers, a non-native group, will perform American Indian-style dances Thursday through Sunday, Sept. 17-19. The free performances will be held outside the Interpretive Center and will start at dusk (7:30 p.m.). Visitors should bring blankets, lawn chairs and insect repellent. The dancers will be canceled if it rains.

An observance of the fall equinox sunrise will take place at 6:30 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 20, at the reconstructed Woodhenge, located one-half mile west of Monks Mound. The discovery, form and function of this Mississippian sun calendar will be explained, including how American Indians used the post-circle monument to determine the seasons and important dates.

Artifact Identification Day will be from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 20, in the Interpretive Center.

Archaeologists will be on hand to examine prehistoric American Indian artifacts brought in by the public, and they will determine the age, cultural affiliation and material from which they were made. No monetary appraisals will be given. The event is free and open to the public.

The Mounds of Arkansas exhibit continues through September. This photographic exhibit, prepared by Arkansas State Parks, features artifacts, excavations and maps from Toltec Mounds, Parkin Mound and the Hampson Museum. Toltec Mounds is a late Woodland to early Mississippian period site dating from about 700 to 900 A.D., including several mounds enclosed by a mile-long earthen embankment. Parkin Mound is a late Mississippian site that may be the village of Casqui visited by the DeSoto expedition in the mid 1500s. The Hampson Museum features artifacts and excavations of the Nodena Mound and site, as well as other Mississippian sites in Arkansas.

Free one-hour guided tours are offered at 1:30 p.m. each Saturday and Sunday. Self-guided tours are always available through the free loan of a cassette player or the purchase of a guide book, available in 13 languages, from the Museum Shop.

Cahokia Mounds is open daily free of charge.

SIUE will offer ballet performance

The James Sewell Ballet Company, which combines classic ballet with the fire of modern dance, will perform at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 24 in the Katherine Dunham Hall Theater on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as part of the Arts & Issues series.

The series is in its 14th year of providing distinguished speakers and exciting performers to audiences in Southwest Illinois.

Now based in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area, Sewell founded the company in 1990 in New York. While studying at the School of American Ballet, Sewell — encouraged by famed choreographer George Balanchine — began to develop his own talent as a choreographer.

With only six dancers and carefully considered costume and lighting designs, Sewell and his company perform a rich variety of innovative dance. The company has distinguished itself as a ballet troupe operating in what has traditionally been a modern dance company structure: small and mobile, and performing works by a living choreographer. This structure has allowed the company to perform in more than 16 states and Bermuda.

Arts & Issues Coordinator Richard Walker said the Sewell Ballet Company provides an exciting program of dance.

"I was drawn to this troupe because of the excitement they generate on stage," Walker said. "The company's use of traditional story ballet, with a mixture of modern dance and theatrical dance, often provides a humorous setting."

Sewell has choreographed about 40 ballets, including nine for which he composed the music. His early works were dramatically based, classic ballet, providing the seeds for his later incorporation of nonclassical movement. Sewell's works have been performed by more than a dozen companies in the United States and Taiwan.

Special projects and commissions have included Amahl and the Night Visitors, produced with the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra, and choreography for the Minnesota Opera's production earlier this year of Aida. Tickets for the Sewell Ballet Company's appearance are $12, $6 for students. Admission includes free parking.
